GOOD MEDICINES!!

Is confidently recommended to invalids, as UNSURPASSED by any known preparation, for the cure of COUGHS, HOARSE. NESS, and other forms of Common Colds, BRONCHITIS, ASTH-MA, CROUP, CONSUMPTION, in an early stage, and for the relief of the patient even in advanced stages of that fatal disease. It combines in a scientific manner remedies of long estectived value, with others of more recent discovery, and besides its soothing and tonic qualities, acis through the skin gently, and with great efficacy for the cure of this class of diseases.

STABLER'S DIARRIGEA CORDIAL! Is a pleasant mixture, compounded in agreement with the rules of Pharmacy, of therapeutic agents, long known and celebrated for their peculiar efficacy in curing DIARRHEA, and similar affections of the system. In its actions it ALLAYS NAUSEA and produces a healthy action of the LIVER, thus removing the cause at the same time that it cures the disease.

produces a nealthy action of the LIVER, thus removing the cause at the same time that it cures the disease.

The valuable Medicines above named have recently been introduced, with the approval of a number of the Medical Profession in the City of Baltimore and elsewhere, and in practice have succeeded most admirably in curing the diseases for which they are prescribed. They are offered to the Country Practitioner, as medicines which he can in all respects depend upon, as prepared in agreement with the experience of some of the most learned and judicious Physicians, and strictly in conformity with the rules of Pharmacy, as especially serving his convenience. Who cannot so readily as the City Physician have his own prescriptions compounded by a practical Pharmacentist.

See the descriptive Pamphlets, to be had gratis of all who have the Medicines for sale, containing recommendation from Doctors Martin, Baltzell, Addison, Payne, Handy, Love, &c.

In connection with Santa Anna and his movements, we see it stated that the United States Steam er Vixen, which left New York recently with sealed orders, has been sent to Vera Cruz to watch the movements of that redoubted chieftain. So the matter stands for the present. Rumors thicken every day, and it can be no longer doubted that the Mexican question will be the first great problem of which some solution must be given by the people of the United States. It may be slightly postponed, but cannot be averted. It takes precedence of Cuba and the Sandwich Islands, and all that sort of thing. The others may be desirable-this is inevitable. Mexico cannot go on as she has been going. The United States cannot suffer her to become the tributary of a European power. She has but one alternative—to take her herself.

PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY, (OLD SCHOOL. On Thursday last reports of no general interest vere disposed of, and a resolution adopted requesting the several Synods to aid the Presbyterian Hisorical Society in obtaining valuable documents and manuscripts. The report in relation to the losses sustained by certain scholarships at Princeton Seminary, was modified and adopted. Dr. Revel, of the Waldensian Synod, was introduced, and returned thanks for the kind manner in which he had been received. The Moderator feelingly responded. The fourth resolution, appended to the report, expresses a desire on the part of the committee to make he missionary fields, which have been established for some length of time, some of them as long as 20 years, self-sustaining; and it is thought the policy of reducing the aid of the board of degrees—on the sliding-scale system-will throw these churches on their own resources, and the more speedily produce that result - and the money saved by this process to be applied to the establishment of missionary fields in new localities. This resolution produced a protracted debate, but was finally adopted. The American Journal of Science and Arts. A scientific investigation of Ericsson's Caloric En gine, by Wm. A. Norton, of Yale College, is the artitle in this number of most general interest. The conclusions of the author are thus summed up:

"1. That Ericsson's Hot Air Engine, as compared with the condensing marine steam engine, in its most economical operation, has shown the ability to do sign and well proportioned. The vaulted roof, of the same work with the use of from 1-6 to 1-3 less fuel; and, that if its full estimated power should hereafter be developed, the saving effected would be 70 per

"2 That, for the same actual power, its weight is about three times as great as that of the marine steam engine, and that in case its estimated power should be obtained, its weight would be as much as 30 per cent. greater.

3. That, in respect to the space occupied by the engines and coal, the advantage is decidedly in favor of the steam engine.

"4. That the great weight of the engine, in proportion to the power developed, must prevent, for gled in the perspective into a harmonious tol propulsion of vessels. At the same time it is to be admitted that the full estimated power is adequate to the production of high velocities. Time alone can decide the question whether or not this maximum power is really obtainable. "5. The great weight of the engine, and space occupied by it in its present form, will, in all probability prevent its adoption for the purpose of inland ments of the telegraph at Cheraw were completely navigation and railroad locomotion, in preference to the steam engine. If used as a land engine, these features will be less objectionable; accordingly it is only in this form of application, and in those cases of marine navigation in which speed is likely to be sacrificed to economy of fuel, that the caloric engine may be confidently expected to achieve decided triumph over the condensing steam engine.

"Although this discussion has brought us to the conclusion that the new motor is not likely to equal the extravagant expectations which are so widely entertained with regard to its capabilities, still it must be freely conceded that the invention of a new engine in respect to which a just claim to superiorty over the steam engine can be asserted, in any particular, is a great achievement, and that the inenuity and mechanical skill displayed in the invenion and construction of the Caloric Engine cannot be too highly extolled .- Literary World.

The ceiling of the halls being divided into pannels formed by the trellis ribs, and the other constructive parts of the building, has allowed ample opportunity for effective decoration. Light is admitted from above in one unbroken and equally distributed body The construction of the building is strongly marked on the elevation, and forms in fact the ornamental galleries which are attractive features in the exterior, forming a delightful promenade, and which pairs, &c. The termination of each of the principal pal roofs to the east and west is semi-spherical, giving strength as well as effect to the building. There are three entrances in the front facing Merrion square, under a range of verandahs, through which access is provided for the holders of season tickets and the general public. The materials of the build ing are iron, timber and glass. The latter are only sed for light, as before described. The parts the roof at each side of the lights are of timber covered with Irish manufactured water proof cloth. The trellis girders which support the galleries are made of wrought iron, supported on cast iron pillars. Ample accommodation in the way of refre ment, retiring rooms, officers, &c., is provided in the plan. The advices from the Morth Carolina Copier mine, to received since our last are very favorable. The vein exhibits an almost unexampled richness, and it is the opinion of the manager that without sinking the shafts any deeper, the full force of the mine, 60 to 100 men, can be employed for two years. Eleven more men were sent to the mine last week. We have been permitted to read a portion of a letter just rebeen permitted to read a portion of a letter just received from one of the Directors of the North Caro lina Copper Company, at present on a visit to the mine, from which we have made the following ex-

This it was that opened till eight at night-without mentioning any deduction for meals, leaving that point as before. That moderate memorial, sir, was treated with the utmost contempt. Its authors were sneeringly told that they were seeking to degrade themselves to the level of factory girls, and that their conduct was only worthy of drunken soldiers and sailors, who were the only parties that had ever anything to do with round robins. You would be amused, sir, if I could describe to you the horror which these young girls felt at the mention of this awful 'round robin They had never heard the word before, and had not the slightest idea of what it meant, and they were afraid that, without knowing it, they had been guil-

"Their minds were, therefore, greatly relieved when, in reply to a timid inquiry as to what a round robin' really was, they were informed that it was only the bit of paper to which they had put their names which was so described. The consequence of this rejection of the prayer of their memorial is that eight of them have given notice of their intention to quit the establishment on the 12th of next month. The others are apprentices, who

Persons from abroad, glancing over a list of the towns in the United States, cannot fail to be struck with the great number of cities-or places so styledand is, very naturally, nonplussed in his attempts to ascertain any rule for distinguishing between towns, cities and villages. In many parts of the country the two latter species of settlements seem to have no existance—all are cities regularly chartered by legislatures, with mayor and councils, through the majority have scarcely enough population to constitute a respectable sized village. In the Western States this s especially the case; and from the noise made by each small cluster of houses, it is difficult for us at a listance to tell which are the larger towns of a State. But the offence is rank enough in our own midst .-All American legislatures seem alike in respect to charters-they may be procured without difficulty, for any required purpose. But what a vast deal of confusion and inconvenience this multiplication of cities produces, and how perfectly useless, as a designation, has the term become ! We are glad to find this folly ridiculed in a West-
